

DEMOCRATS PLAN NOW TO CONTROL CONGRESS IN 1923

National Committee to Be Called to Discuss Policy Toward Administration.

WILL ATTACK TAXES.

Peace Treaty Situation Gives Party Chance to Put Republicans on Record.

By David Laurence.
(Special Correspondent of The Evening World.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (Copyright, 1921).—Chairman George White has decided to call the Democratic National Committee together some time this autumn for a general discussion of Democratic policy toward the Harding Administration.

The time of the meeting has not been fixed but probably will be immediately after the Republicans have passed a new Tax Bill and the country has had a chance to learn definitely what has been done by the Republican Party on tax revision.

Thus far the Democrats have maintained a policy of passive resistance to Republican doctrine, believing that the country wanted to give the new Administration a fair chance to make good without Democratic obstruction. When the Tax and Tariff Bills are passed, however, the Democrats who already take exception to the Republican proposals will endeavor to convince the country that those policies are wrong and can be corrected only by the election of a Democratic Congress a year hence.

The Democratic line of attack already is apparent. The Democrats say Secretary Mellon's proposals mean merely that people whose incomes are below $5,000 a year will be taxed higher than before, while those with incomes above $10,000 will have their taxes reduced. The Democrats admit that the Republicans can reduce taxes if they want to, but only by adopting the scheme of Representative Fordney, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, who is credited with the idea of cutting taxes radically and leaving the Government with a deficit to be made up after the Congressional elections have been held next year.

The country will see some strange political line-ups before the end of the present session of Congress. Many Western Republicans do not like the idea of repealing the excess profits taxes. Several Democrats will find it necessary to vote for the Republican Tax and Tariff Bills, while a goodly number of Republicans whose constituencies will have been hard hit by the tariff or tax measures will vote against their party.

But broadly speaking the Democratic Party with range itself against the Fordney tariff and the new Revenue Law and base its whole attack on them in the next Congressional elections.

In regard to the peace treaty situation the Democrats will unquestionably decline to accept the Hughes formula when submitted, on much the same grounds as were adopted by the Republicans against Wilson. The Democrats are already beginning to say that the treaty with Germany is not being arrived at very openly and that when the treaty is finally submitted they will not accept it without the crossing of a "Y" or the dotting of an "I."

Instead they will endeavor to attach the Versailles pact with the League of Nations covenant, and when that is voted down they will offer the Versailles Treaty with the League reservations and call for a vote in an effort to place the Republicans on record as having reversed themselves on foreign policy. The Democrats control more than one-third of the Senate and can block ratification of any treaty. They are saying that the Senate isn't being consulted in advance of the agreements being made with foreign powers and that as a consequence amendments and reservations will be introduced when the treaty is finally submitted for ratification.

DIVER DROWNED IN HUDSON WHEN AUTO TIRE SLIPS.

Improvised Life Preserver Prevents Him From Fighting Way Up.

Herman Slaughter, 33, of Sheffield Avenue, New York, was drowned last night in the Hudson River off Port Lee when he dove off a motor boat with an automobile tire about him. In the launch were Slaughter's wife of six weeks, and a friend of hers, a slaughter could not swim, and it was believed the automobile tire was loosened from his shoulders and counterbalanced him, making it impossible for him to fight his way up.

George Hessler of Port Lee heard the shout of the women and dove in after Slaughter, but Slaughter seized him in such a way that Hessler had to break from him to save his own life. The body was recovered.

HINTS AT FRAUDS IN ESTATE CHECKS BY "HER TRACER"

Surrogate Censures "Inheritance Specialist" and Sends Case to State's Attorney

Jeremiah S. Perkins of No. 255 Broadway, a former policeman, now an "inheritance specialist," after being censured by Surrogate Cohan for his actions in obtaining checks belonging to the estate of Marie Heller, to-day was ordered to turn over the property to Anna C. Fugenthal, stepdaughter of Mrs. Heller, and administratrix of her stepmother's property. Surrogate Cohan advised that the matter be laid before the District Attorney.

Charles C. Coster, attorney for Mrs. Fugenthal, said that Mrs. Heller died intestate, but Mrs. Fugenthal did not learn of this until after the matter had been sent to the public administrator. Perkins, the attorney said, calls himself a "finder of heirs," and his business, according to Coster, is to watch the office of the Public Administrator. In that way, it is charged, he learned that Mrs. Fugenthal, who lives at Latrobe, Pa., was released to the decedent.

An affidavit of Mrs. Fugenthal alleged on July 13 a young man called upon her and represented himself as an "officer of the State of New York." He later proved to be Perkins's son, Coster said. He told Mrs. Fugenthal that he wanted to take her to New York to claim Mrs. Heller's property.

Mrs. Fugenthal, accompanied by her husband, came here, she said, where she met the elder Perkins, who presented his "Inheritance Specialist" card. Mrs. Fugenthal declared in her affidavit that she believed Perkins to be a State official and signed papers which he gave her, one being a petition to be appointed administratrix of the estate. Another gave Perkins power of attorney to act in her behalf, she said. Mrs. Fugenthal alleged that she was taken to Perkins's office and at his request endorsed a check for $25, which he kept. He then demanded, she says, that she endorse other checks in his possession, but she again refused. When she asked him to return them she declares Perkins refused.

Upon being questioned by Surrogate Cohan Perkins said that when Mrs. Fugenthal refused to endorse the checks he affixed his signature to one for $800 as attorney. He said he deposited this in his bank and placed the other checks in his safe.

4,500 PATROLMEN TAKE EXAMINATION TO-MORROW.

Reserves Will Do Their Work for Them Meanwhile.

The New York Police Force will be shy the services of 4,500 patrolmen from 8 o'clock to-morrow morning. Members of the police reserves will take their places.

Among those taking the examination are 15 sergeants who arrived in the city and were promoted under the Veterans' Preference Act. As the constitutionality of the law is in question, it is believed that the Senate will be advised to submit to civil service regulations. Candidates and reserves will be in the city until the examination is on.

Serrano was sent to Lincoln Hospital.

GREEN DRUG CLERK GAVE HER POISON

Man Who Employed Him Held After Woman Is Made Ill.

David Rosenberg, a druggist, with a store at No. 1575 St. Nicholas Avenue, and residing at No. 1116 Tinton Avenue, Bronx, was held in $500 this morning in Washington Heights Court, charged with having violated the law regarding the sale of poisons without a proper label on the bottle.

Mrs. Lottie Long of No. 570 West 189th Street, told Magistrate Simpson she had been suffering from insomnia and Dr. L. V. McElroy of No. 603 West 190th Street, had prescribed paraldehyde. Her husband had the prescription filled and when she took a dose of it she collapsed and had a hemorrhage.

Rosenberg said on the day in question he hired a young man whose name he says he does not recall as assistant. He says the assistant filled several prescriptions and left, promising to bring in his pharmacist's diploma the next day. Later, he says, the new clerk called up on the telephone and told him he was not certain about one prescription he had filled. This was the paraldehyde prescription. Rosenberg said he telephoned, trying to get it back, but it was too late. The drug clerk never returned to show his diploma and take the job.

POLICEMEN VISIT Hylan TO ASK 10-SQUAD SYSTEM

Say They Have Only One Day Off in 27 at Present.

A committee of patrolmen, accompanied by Frank J. Prial, Deputy Comptroller and head of the Civic Forum, called on Mayor Hylan to-day and asked him to use his influence in bringing about a restoration of the ten-squad system by which the police have a day off every week. Under the nine-squad system, Prial said, the police have a day off every twenty-seven days. According to Prial, Mayor Hylan assured his visitors he was in sympathy with their aims and said he would take up the question with Police Commissioner Enright. At the last session of the Board of Aldermen before vacation a resolution by Vice Chairman Kennedy providing funds to add 400 patrolmen to the force was defeated. It is understood the resolution will be reintroduced in October.

"OMNIPOTENT OOM" TO PIT HIS POWERS AGAINST SHERIFF

Promises Sunday Ball Game, Officer Forbids It and All Nyack Is Wailing.

Special to The Evening World. NYACK, Aug. 5.—Dr. Pierre A. Bernard, more familiarly known as "Oom the Omnipotent," promises to pit his omnipotence against that of Sheriff A. L. Merritt of Rockland County next Sunday afternoon. Here's the issue:

Oom says his personally conducted baseball team, known as the Nyackers, will play the Pearl River on Sunday afternoon in the new park which Oom has just opened on his grounds.

The Sheriff says there will be no Sunday baseball because the State law, permitting the game in cities, forbids it in villages.

Nyack is breathless. Nobody knows what is going to happen. Time will tell.

Oom's popularity in Nyack is much greater than it used to be.

"WOODROW WILSON FOUNDATION" ASKS FOR $1,000,000

Will Reward Meritorious Service to Democracy, Public Welfare and Peace Through Justice.

The "Woodrow Wilson Foundation," organized as a tribute to the former President, will devote its income to awards for "meritorious service to democracy, public welfare, liberal thought or peace through justice," National Chairman Frank D. Roosevelt announced to-day.

Mr. Roosevelt said he hoped the foundation would acquire a $1,000,000 fund through popular subscription under the direction of the Executive Committee, whose Chairman is Cleveland H. Dodge. The formal announcement of the foundation's plans follows:

"The fund is created by public subscription in recognition of the national and international services of Woodrow Wilson, twice President of the United States, who furthered the cause of human freedom and was instrumental in pointing out effective methods for the co-operation of liberal forces of mankind throughout the world.

"The award or awards from the income of the foundation will be made from time to time by a nationally constituted committee to the individual or group that has rendered, within a specified period, meritorious service to democracy, public welfare, liberal thought or peace through justice."

New appointees to the executive committee headed by Cleveland H. Dodge were Prof. Stephen P. Duggan and the Rev. Frederick Lynch. This committee, which is now at work selecting State chairmen for the general canvass to begin in the early fall, includes Mr. Dodge, Frank I. Cobb of The New York World, Henry Morgenthau, Edwin F. Gay, Col. E. M. House, Adolph S. Ochs, Frank L. Polk, Mrs. J. Malcolm Forbes, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Miss Virginia Potter, Mrs. Charles S. Simonson, Mrs. H. Otto Wittgen and Mrs. Charles L. Tiffany.

SLASHES SISTER-IN-LAW, SAYING SHE JILTED HIM.

Man With Hatchet, Recently Out of Asylum, Broken by Crowd.

Harry Kotin, a Russian, who, according to the police, was recently released from the Kings Park Asylum, attacked his sister-in-law with a hatchet in the hallway of No. 385 Bristol Street, Brooklyn, this morning. She fled screaming, her skull fractured.

Patrolman Doering of the Brownsville Station protected Kotin after he rescued her from a crowd that had beaten him. The victim was sent to St. Mary's Hospital. Kotin's explanation was he did it to "avenge his heart."

He told the police he had left the girl behind him in Russia when he came here and she had married his brother there and come here. The couple have three children.

Fined for Hurling Cat out Window.

Michael Zlotoff, superintendent of an apartment house at No. 1312 Seneca Avenue, the Bronx, was fined $20 in Morrisania Police Court by Magistrate Mack to-day for throwing a cat out of a window on the top floor of the house. The cat died. Mrs. Julia Reinhardt, a tenant owned it. Not having $20 handy Zlotoff, said he would send two days in jail.

RUM SHIP SEIZURE BEYOND THREE-MILE LIMIT IS UPHELD

the schooner Marshall. I first learned of it when the ship was at Quarantine. I said there was no criminal liability in this district and turned the criminal phase of the matter over to Mr. Ross in Brooklyn and the District Attorney in New Jersey. As to the forfeiture of the ship and cargo I have taken no action, but sent a telegram to Washington yesterday morning, when I learned the result of the investigation, asking instructions from the Attorney General as to the course to be pursued.

Four members of the crew of the schooner Henry L. Marshall were called before the Federal Grand Jury in Brooklyn to-day. They were Robert Pike, Michael Murphy, Clarence King and Joseph Maul. Charles H. Hyde, former City Chamberlain, appeared as counsel for them and before the hearing asked Judge Howe for permission to confer with his clients in a room which would be entirely private. This was granted. After the conference Mr. Hyde said that the seizure of the schooner was an outrage, as she was 9 miles off shore at the time, well beyond the three-mile limit, in what he called "no man's water."

As for his clients, he said that they could not testify to what went on board the vessel as they knew nothing about it, nor of what was done with that part of her cargo that was taken off in small boats.

COURT NO PLACE FOR "MOVIE" ROW

Wife Has Norma Talmadge's Leading Man Before Judge for Alleged Beatings.

Kenneth Harlan, movie actor, leading man for Norma Talmadge, was brought into West Side Court to-day on complaint of his wife Florence, who charged disorderly conduct and alleged beatings.

Recently, she said, when she went to a dance with two movie directors, William Douglas and William Latham, her husband attacked them both and was arrested for it at Long Beach but was discharged next morning.

She said this happened after her husband had promised to keep away from her.

"He told me," she said, "that he was sick and tired of the obligations of keeping a home and a wife."

Harlan denied the charges but admitted that he had "shaken" his wife.

Magistrate Rytterberg dismissed the case, saying Harlan had promised again to stay away from his wife and contribute to her support.

LONDON "Y" WAR WORKER COMES TO HER FIANCE HERE

Captain of Ship Uses Japanese God to Dispel Fog.

Capt. J. E. P. Matthews of the Royal Mail Line, who keeps a Japanese god in his cabin to dispel fog—and says it works—brought the steamship Orbita into port to-day from Hamburg, Cherbourg and Southampton.

When the ship docked Miss Hattie C. Clark, a London girl who served the captain during the war and earned enough medals to cover her blouse, was met by George R. Greenough, formerly a "Y" worker, but now a student at Columbia, and they announced they were engaged. They had done war work together.

Sara Kestelman, fourteen, who boarded at Cherbourg, died at sea. Her mother had died in Poland and she was to join her father in Boston.

CARUSO TOOK ALL TO ITALY, FEARING HIS COMING DEATH

His $300,000 Furniture, 200 Pairs Shoes, 200 Suits, &c., Filled 38 Trunks and Cases.

That Caruso had a premonition, before he sailed for Italy, on May 28, that he might never return to the United States, is borne out by statements to-day by Constantino J. Sperco, an importer, of No. 4 Harrison Street, and close friend of Caruso for twenty years.

"He had 200 pairs of shoes and about 200 suits of clothes," said Mr. Sperco, "and he took them all. With the expensive suite of furniture, for which he paid $300,000, which furnished his apartment at the Vanderbilt Hotel, Caruso also took his collection of gold coins and several collections of rare vases and pottery antiques. It required thirty-eight trunks and packing cases to ship Caruso's belongings to his native land."

"Mr. Caruso's lease on his apartment at the Vanderbilt expires Sept. 1," continued Mr. Sperco, "and the singer permitted his secretary, Bruno Zivato, and his bride to continue their residence at the Vanderbilt until the lease expires. The summer home at East Huntington, L. I., was leased for only six months by the tenor. A few weeks before Caruso sailed he sold his Pennsylvania Railroad bonds. His other securities consisted of a few Liberty bonds, which are now in a safe deposit vault. He had no other property in America."

"Did Mr. Caruso ever tell you he intended to remain in his native land?" Sperco was asked.

"No," replied Mr. Sperco, "but why should he take all his belongings if he was coming back?"

NEW CARUSO WILL FOUND IN FLORENCE, MADE 10 DAYS AGO

over the loss of the great singer. Among them was one from Queen Mother Alexandra of England, which read:

"It is with deep regret that I hear of the death of your gifted husband, whose wonderful voice has for so long delighted the world. His loss will be much felt in England, and I offer you my sincere sympathy in your great bereavement."

(Signed) ALEXANDRA.

Incidents not altogether pleasant occurred while the funeral procession of the great tenor was on its way to the cemetery. There was a veritable war among photographers seeking to take pictures of the scene, one of them maintaining he had received the exclusive right from the family of Caruso to take the pictures and that all others must be excluded from that privilege. Operators of moving picture machines also quarreled. This claim was upheld in certain quarters and others were not permitted to operate.

When the procession had assembled in the Plaza Dante, the tributes of the nation, the city and the outside world were paid in orations delivered by representative men.

For America the speaker was Homer M. Livingston, the American Consul at Naples. He told of the loss Italy, America and the world had suffered at the passing of the great artist. Caruso, he said, mourned in two hemispheres, was beloved not only for his art, but also for his many generous deeds of charity.

In the other speeches, the perfect the Mayor and representatives of the Council eulogized the life of the tenor and his love of his art and his country.

FEDERAL RESERVE "SAVED COLLAPSE"

W. P. G. Harding Denies Break in 1920 Was Due to Restriction of Credits.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—World-wide economic conditions were solely responsible for the great business depression that began in 1920, Gov. Harding declared to-day in defending the policy of the Federal Reserve Board, before the joint Congressional Agricultural Commission. Harding's denial that the Board was responsible for the fall in prices was made in answer to Representative Mills of New York, who said there was a general impression that the break in 1920 was due to restriction of credits by the Board.

"The Board had nothing to do with it," declared Harding. "All it tried to do was to stop a general banking collapse."

"The cotton farmers got some terribly bad advice in 1920 from influential men," said Harding. "I claim that the men who led the movement for 40-cent cotton and prevented the average cotton farmer from selling his crops took a terrible responsibility upon themselves."

BORAH WANTS ARMY CUT TO 100,000 MEN

Declares Reduction Is Imperative to Avoid Increasing Taxpayers' Burden.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Reduction of the army to 100,000 men is provided in a resolution introduced to-day by Senator Borah, Idaho.

It directs the Secretary of War to accept applications for discharges from the Army without regard for existing limitations until the force within the United States is down to 100,000.

This step, Senator Borah said, is imperative in view of Secretary Mellon's statement regarding taxes and the need of governmental economy if taxpayers are not to be called on to bear new burdens. He would force reduction to 150,000 by Oct. 1.

CARUSO MEMORIAL SERVICE ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Metropolitan Opera House to Send Wealthy Friends to Speak.

A memorial service for Enrico Caruso will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Campbell Funeral Church, Broadway and 66th Street. Dr. Antonio Stella, Mr. Caruso's private physician, will officiate as Chairman. Members of the Metropolitan Opera Company who are in the city will attend and contribute to the service. The Order of the Sons of Italy, opera devotees and the Italian Consul have been invited. Speakers will include Dr. A. H. Giannini, President of the East River Savings National Bank, and Bruno Zivato, Caruso's secretary, and Antonio Scotti, Caruso's close friend. Miss Camella Ponselle and Theodore Webb have been invited to sing or say a few words.

The Metropolitan Opera House to-day ordered a large wreath to be placed in front of the point of the chapel during the service as a mark of respect. It was in the same chapel that Caruso attended funeral services of several friends in the opera world, including Oscar Hammerstein, who passed away in the last few years.

The programme for the services is being arranged and will be announced to-morrow.

"30 AVE. BELLE'S" LETTERS TO SAILOR READ IN COURT.

Mrs. Thorne Called Wilson "My Precious Boy of Sunshine."

Extracts from letters written by Mrs. Mary Casey Thorne, former "Belle of Third Avenue," whose husband, Joel W. Thorne, last Thursday obtained from a referee a recommendation for a divorce, were read to-day by Mr. Thorne's attorney, Frederick L. C. Keating, to Justice Burr on asking to have the referee's report confirmed.

In the letters Mrs. Thorne referred to Raymond B. Wilson, a sailor, as "My Own Sunshine" and "My Precious Boy of Sunshine," while Wilson called Mrs. Thorne "My Precious Wife."

Wilson wrote, according to the attorney, "I long just to have my arms around your body snuggled up close to me. I can just see your precious brown eyes looking into mine."

Mrs. Thorne and Wilson sat in the court room during the arguments. Harlan, who tried to buy out her relations with Wilson were phonic and religious.
